RCGP and Alopecia UK E-Learning Module

Dear GP Practice Manager,

We write to inform you about the e-learning module developed by Alopecia UK in partnership with the Royal College of General Practitioners (RCGP) and we have asked all our supporters to deliver this letter to their GP Practice to encourage take up of the module.

Hair loss is a common presentation in primary care, but GPs can find it hard to manage due to the lack of effective treatments. The e-learning module discusses the different types of alopecia, the various management options and, most importantly, the psychological impact of hair loss.

We ask you to share this letter and inform the GPs in your practice about the Alopecia e-learning module available on the RCGP's website, and remind them that these modules are a great way to build up the necessary number of CPD hours.

We really hope your GPs will complete the alopecia module so they can improve their knowledge and understanding to be better equipped to help patients with alopecia.

The Alopecia e-learning module can be accessed at: www.elearning.rcgp.org.uk/alopecia

Thank you in advance for your help in taking the time to mention this CPD opportunity to the GPs in your practice.

Yours faithfully,

Simon Ray
